

Join OCIC, a thriving community of Ontario-based organizations, networks, institutions and individuals working for sustainable solutions to global poverty challenges

BE A PART OF THE UNIVERSAL MOVEMENT TO REALIZE THE GLOBAL GOALS FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

BE A MEMBER

OCIC supports members in being leaders of good development, adapting to change, and developing innovative solutions to global poverty challenges.

As a member of OCIC you are invited to take part in a variety of relevant professional development opportunities, and to contribute to periodic research on emerging issues. You also have access to sample organizational policies, case studies, examples of good practice, and a community of international development, humanitarian relief and public engagement practitioners with whom you can share ideas and opportunities. While many of our activities are held face-to-face, you can often join online.

Strengthen Your Capacity

OCIC brings together sectoral leaders and practitioners, issue-specific experts, advocates, academics, funders and private sector actors to better understand and leverage perspectives, expertise and resources.

As a member of OCIC you will be encouraged to attend and contribute to monthly networking and information-sharing opportunities, issue-specific networking groups, periodic member meeting and calls, and sector consultations on emergent issues.

Participate in Multi-sectoral Dialogue

OCIC provides communications platforms to amplify the voice of our members, to influence key decision makers, and to engage Canadians as active global citizens.

As a member of OCIC you will increase your reach to a diverse and national civil society network, NGO leaders and practitioners, government funders, and community-based social innovators.

BE A PART OF SUSTAINABLE CHANGE

"Through membership in OCIC we have opportunities to hear what is going on in the international development community, and to network, participate in trainings, and be a part of meetings with key people in government. OCIC's friendly and professional staff really care about the sector and do their best to assist member organizations to reach our potential in the field."

David Barth, Executive Director
World Accord
Organizational Member

"Humber's OCIC membership is highly valued in connecting us to the NGO community, sharing best practices, and accessing networking groups for our faculty, staff and students. As a post-secondary institution, we also value the training opportunities provided through OCIC, and their efforts in raising awareness on global poverty issues."

Humber College
Network/Institutional Member

"When I think of OCIC, the first word that comes to mind is 'community'. OCIC provides me with a community of development professionals and experts with whom I can learn, share best practices and look to for support when developing innovative programming."

Mitra Marouchehian
Associate Member
